Baca relations throughout the country demand a clean, positive and impartial administration of the law. Lax enforcement of the law breeds corruption, which assually results in upheavals that are hurtful. No class should be permitted to use the law as an agent to accomplish their selfish ends. Justice is the only guarantee of stuble government. To play favoritas and wink at violations is to imperit that which is dearest to society—peace, good will and prosperity.

We give moral support to the govern-ment by giving encouragement to offi-cers and assisting them in the detection of law violators, and we give financial support by the payment of taxes and assessments.

iled today with the foreign relations littee of the United States sen Missouri, counsel for the Egyptian ion, charges that "England desire to pass upon the status of Egypt."

The document sets forth that the original occupation of Egypt by British troops beginning in 1882 was claimed by the Hritish government to be merely temporary for the purpose of suppressing "rebein" and collecting debts due Europeans. The British government, says Mr. Folk, pledged Egypt and the world that this occupation would be only temporary.

After giving a resume of the political history of modern Egypt and the "alleged wrongs done in that country to enforce British rule in the last several decades," the brief recites the story of "the killing of 890 and the woulding of 1,599 Egyptian natives last April in the atreets of their cities while holding demonstrations for freedom under the 'self determination' clauses of the peace treaty."

Mr. Folk who was formerly solicitor for the state department and who now represents the commission which was named by the legislative assembly of Egypt, a majority of whom were elected by the people, he says, calls attention to the fact that Egyptian troops, numbering 1,000,000 "fought on the side of the silies to make, as they believed, the world 'safe for democracy' and for the right of national self-determination for all peoples."

Egypt before the war, he says, was the world 'safe for democracy' and for the right of national self-determination for all peoples."

Egypt before the war, he says, was independent for all practical purposes though under the mominal sovereignty of Turkey and subject to an annual tribute to Turkey. On Dec. 18, 1914, it is stated Great Britain removed the ruler of Egypt and appointed Pfince Husseln as sultan 'ontensibly as a war measure and assumed by the Egyptians to be such."

When the time came for making peace, Mr. Folk observed, "the Egyptian people naturally concluded that since, under the league of nations, they would be preserved from external aggression, the protectorate of Great Britain would be removed. But they were doomed to disappointment."

The Egyptian legislative assembly's commission on the way to Paris to present that country's claims, it is charged, was "interned by order of the British government upon reaching Malta." Released upon the recommendation of Gen. Allenby, it is said, it reached Paris "only to find, with amagement, that a recognition of the British protectorate over Egypt had been written into the treaty."

In conclusion the brief states: "Condemnation of Egypt without a hearing before an international tribunal, if one is established, would mean the continued subjection of Egypt to British bondage and continued mowing down by British machine guns of those liberty-seeking people who fought with America to make the world safe from military autocracy."

With the opening of the twelfth annual Tri-State fair only five weeks distant, active preparations are being made by F. D. Fuller, secretary, and his corps of assistants for the greatest Southern exposition ever seen in Memphis. The dates this year are Sept. 20 to 27.

Mr. Fuller believes that more than 100,000 persons residing in Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Alabama and Kentucky will come to Memphis this year and he is striving to give them the best fair they ever attended. It will be truly the show window of Dixie. Advices from the North are that new attendance records have been made at every state fair held thus far. Without doubt 1919 is proving to be the greatest fair year ever known, Mr. Fuller says.

Uncle Sam Will Help.

Uncle Sam Will Help.

The United States department of agriculture will send an elaborate exhibit to the Memphis fair as a means to bring Southern farmers into closer touch with the government service. Several representatives of the department of agriculture will accompany the exhibit to meet the farmers and to advise them how best to solve their postwar problems.

Every branch of agriculture has contributed to the big exhibit coming to Memphis, including the bureaus of animal industry, plant industry, chemistry, entomology, forest service, biological survey, public roads, markets, soils, weather and the states relation service. Banner, counties in the tri-states, of course, will send elaborate exhibits to Memphis. These dispays always interest farmers, because they give them an opportunity to see what their neighbors are doing to increase their crop yields. The corn show will be an important feature of the agricultural section. The importance of using tested seed as a means of increasing production will be emphasized by experts in charge.

Greatest Live Stock Coming. The outstanding feature of the fair will be the live stock show, in which every breed of beef and dairy cattle, awine and sheep will compete for cash premiums amounting to nearly $25,060. The number of early entries is unprecedented, Mr. Fuller says. A gratifying feature of the live stock entries is the large number of new local breeders.

Fine art, arts and crafts, and textiles will be featured in the women's department. Miss Ada Harris, superintendent, says the number of entries from distant cities is unprecedented. She is urging tri-state women to make their entries early, in order that they may compete for the enlarged premium list.

Although the educational side of the hair is being stressed more than usual. Mr. Fuller has given plenty of attention to the purely amusement features. There will not be a dull moment at the fair for the pleasure seekers.

Lieut. Omer Locklear, the daredevil flyer who flirts with death by walking en the upper wing of a speeding airplane, will be the star feature at the fair. He will change from one plane to another in midair, such perform other stunts that have made him the great American sensation. He will be there on the opening day of the fair.

A record-breaking crowd is expected on the fairgrounds the night of Sep-22, to witness the historical pageant. The Blossoming of the Century Flant. This was to have been the dominant feature of the Memphis centenary celebration last May, but was postponed thrice on account of ram.

There will be harness races each afternoon, except Saturday, Sept. 27, when the tyack will be cleared for Alax Sloan's daring auto raceirs. Other features include vaudeville afternoon and night, daily concepts by local bands and McKay's Scotch Highlanders, and Johnny J. Jones' Midway shows.

ACCIDENTAL SHOT KILLS PASSENGER

RISON, Ark., Aug. 18. (Spl.)—Guy Whitehead, age about 20 years, was mortally wounded while on a passenger train at Star City Thursday afternoon. The young man was walking down the alsie of the coach directly behind Joe Edmonds, who was carrying a pistol, and who stopped in the aisle to pick up some papers he had dropped, and in doing so the weapon slipped from its holster and, striking the floor, exploded, the charge taking effect in the right breast of Whitehead. A physician was hastily summoned, and on reaching the scene of the tragedy saw that death was imminent and had him removed to a hotel, where he died in a few minutes. The young man is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Whitehead, of near Star City, two brothers and one sister.

every state fair held thus far. Without doubt 1919 is proving to be the greatest fair year ever known, Mr. Fuller says.

Helpfulness will be the dominant idea in every department of the Tri-State fair. Among the important things to be stressed will be the possibilities of increased crop production through the postates as a food and the possibilities of making sweet potatoes a more important cash crop; the benefits of cooperative marketing; how to obtain best results in fittings hogs for market; the possibilities of poultry, rabbit and pigeon production as a backyard side line, and the importance of the dairy industry to the Iri-states.

Old Folks and Young

Grow Much Stronger Mentally and Physically, when their Blood is Clear and Rich.

Poisons in the Blood, caused by waste matter or malarial germs, make the body and mind dull and weak, a condition ordinarily called Laziness. These impurities in the Blood make folks pale, sickly and easily chilled. Thin, Weak Blood does not supply the necessary nourishment and warmth to make strong bodies, powerful minds, bright eyes and good complexions.

Grove's Tasteless chill Tonic

restores Energy and Vitality by creating new healthy blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

It destroys the Malarial Germs and removes the Impurities in the Blood. GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC is not a patent medicine. It is simply IKON and QUININE sus pended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The Quinine and Iron does not dissolve in the syrup and, therefore, does not make the syrup bitter. You do not taste the bitter Quinine and you do not taste the Iron because both are completely covered with syrup when swallowed. The Iron used in GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC does not discolor the teeth or injure the enamel and it agrees with the stomach better than other forms of Iron.

The Specially-Prepared Quinine used in GROVE'S TASTELESS Chill TONIC differs from the ordinary Sulphate of Quinine, in that it does not cause nervousness or ringing in the head and does not disturb the stomach, making it especially adapted to children and delicate adults who cannot retain anything of a nauseating nature.
